

SATURDAY, JUNE 10 S. A. M.

NOTICES OF THE DAY.

POORS.—Will be sold at the National Hotel for the races this week, morning and night. D. SHEPHERD P. WHALEY.

CALVARY CHURCH.—Rev. W. A. Salvage, of 407 N. 11th, at the corner of Main and 8 o'clock P. M.

MESMER, Green & Green are in receipt of a large stock of Alexander's genuine kid gloves. Since this house began to keep the glove it has been the favor. It will be well to buy them from us.

MEYER.—Wm. H. Enrich is our authorized agent for the sale of the Journal for the States of Tennessee, Alabama, and Georgia, and all points South. Persons desirous of advertising for the Journal, either in large or small quantities, will do well to address him at Nashville, Tennessee, Box 181.

A ridiculous rumor was current in the city yesterday, to the effect that the soldiers engaged in the vicinity of the waterworks had been bathing in the reservoirs. We are assured that the rumor was without the slightest foundation. Strong guards are stationed at both the reservoir and engine-houses and the soldiers were never permitted to bathe in the river above the engine-house.

WOODLAND RACES.—Fifth Day.—The Woodland races were again well attended yesterday, both the ladies' and public stands were crowded with spectators. The race course is a mile and a half long, and the horses which have started are Alexander, Clay and Baird. Alexander seemed to be the favorite at about to 1. Clay next, and Baird third. At the first start they got off together, with Clay slightly in the lead. In this way they ran to the half-mile post and behind the grove. On emerging from the grove, Baird took the lead, being about two or three lengths ahead of Clay. They continued on their way until they passed the first mile in 1 min. On entering the second mile their speed was considerably increased, more particularly that of Baird, who shot some ten or fifteen yards before he reached the half-mile post, which he easily maintained throughout the race. Alexander second, Clay third. The result of this heat-changed masters considerably. In fact, Baird won the race, and was the first to cross the finish line. Alexander third. The race time having elapsed for the horses to cool, they were again brought to the score looking as fresh as when they started. At the tap of the drum they got off at a much faster gait than before. Alexander was now put to his best speed, and before reaching the quarter mile, he had the inside track, and was slightly in the lead. Around the track stretch ran a killing junc, and disappeared behind the trees in the road. When he was within a home street Alexander and Baird were neck and neck, but when they passed the first mile Baird was a neck ahead, making the first mile in 1 min. Before he reached the half-mile post he had increased the distance to fifteen yards, Alexander second, and Clay third. In this position they jockeyed under the trees, making the heat in 3 min. Baird first, Alexander second, and Clay third.

To-day there will be two races. For the first race, Mr. Alexander, Mr. Enrich, Mr. Alexander's horse Alexander, Mr. Enrich's horse, Mr. Alexander's horse Alexander, and Mr. Walden's Linda. The day's sport will be the crowning effort of a week's splendid racing.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—We never saw a more fashionable audience in Wooton's Theatre than was assembled there last night. The attractions presented by the Campbell & Castle Opera Trope proved irresistible, and our more loving people were out in full force. Marianne was presented with a splendid array of men, the char of Miss Gray, and the charming wife of Mr. Campbell, Mrs. Campbell, and the charming wife of Mr. Castle, Mrs. Castle, and the charming wife of Mr. Alexander, Mrs. Alexander. The day's sport will be the crowning effort of a week's splendid racing.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—An arrest recently, in Indianapolis, Indiana, of the name of Edward E. Hatchen, against whom the charge of bigamy has been preferred. It seems that in 1860 Hatchen married a lady in Indiana, and, when he went to the same town the following year, he married another woman, and so on, until he had married six women.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A jeweler named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, has been shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was captured and is now in jail.

WOOTON'S THEATRE.—A negro named John C. Hill, of 10th and Market streets, was shot dead by a negro, who, it is said, was engaged in a struggle with Hill over a diamond ring. Hill was shot in the head, and died almost immediately. The negro, who was a slave, was

